Washington County Manufacturing Supply Chain Study

The Appalachian Regional Commission announced approval of a grant in the amount of $25,000 to the Washington County Board of Commissioners for a Manufacturing Supply Chain Study. The grantee will complete a study identifying supply chain opportunities in the market area. A contractor will be competitively selected to assess existing manufacturers demand for inputs, and develop a listing of current and potential local suppliers. Recommendations such as formation of a "vendor village" and the strengthening of existing supply relationships will be reviewed as well as identification of companies that could locate to Washington County to support current manufacturing clients.

In addition to ARC funds, local sources will provide $25,000 bringing the total project funding to $50,000.
